THE OFFICIAL ART BOOK OF

ZERO-SUM: OMEN

DRAFT LAYOUT · v1.0

FOREWORD

Every number in this world is spinning. This book is about the people who live under them.

The Tally began as a question: what would a world look like if luck were a currency everyone could see? Our answer was a city that counts and a ring of lands that remember older ways of counting: thread, karma, contracts and books of the dead.

We built every style from that history. The brass of the Basilica, the scrap of the Remainder Wards, the gaudy charms of the street, the gold leaf of the fortunate few, and the painted, breathing lands beyond the gate.

The Zero-Sum: Omen team

"A WORLD WITHOUT LUCK IS A WORLD WITHOUT LOSS."

THE GOD OF LUCK · HAP

"Hap deals. People choose."

Hap is the Tally's one god of luck: the will inside chance. Hap never commands; it deals. Every land built its own way of talking to Hap, and those ways became the many ledgers. In TR 702 the Basilica's Even Hand engine closed around the god itself: the amber eye over Meridian is Hap's eye, caged. The Rounding shaves the god every dawn, and the shavings became NIL: the part of luck that refused to be counted.

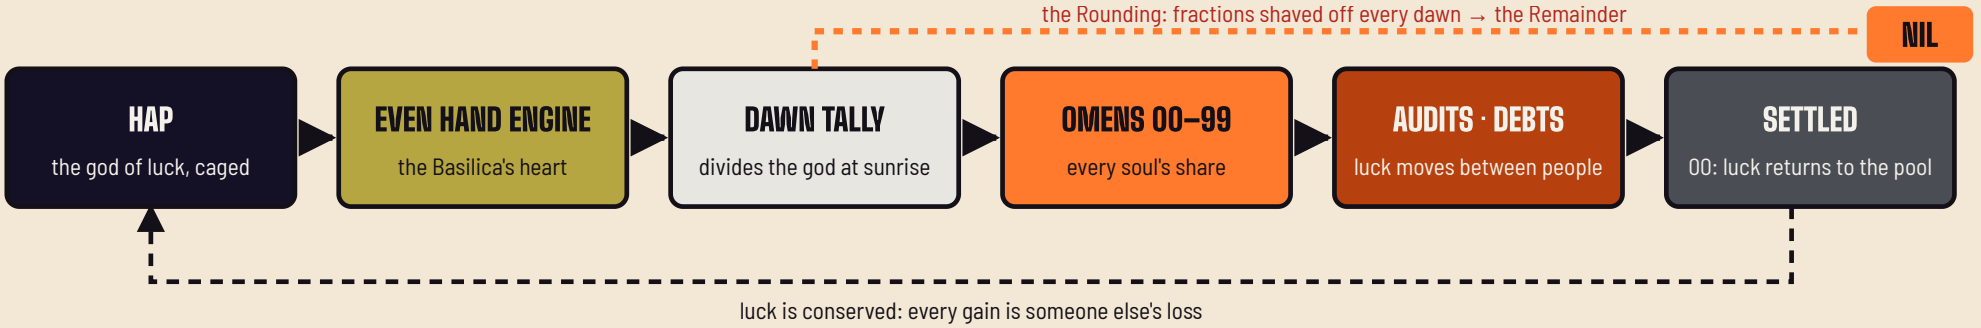

- Never the same face twice (each land's face, in its art style)
- Dice eyes and orbiting digits 0–9 never change
- Never a monster, a boss, or a stand-in for a real deity
- Speaks only in dreams, coincidences and the finale

The Open Hand: Hap's symbol

THE LOGIC OF LUCK

RULE	WHAT IT MEANS	CONSEQUENCE
1. Luck is real and finite.	Luck is the substance Hap dealt into the world: the chance that things go your way. Under the Basilica it is conserved: the total never changes.	For your luck to rise, someone else's must fall. Every gain is a transfer.
2. Every soul holds a share.	The Basilica divides the caged god into shares every dawn. Your share is your Omen, 00–99, floating over your head.	Everyone can see everyone's luck. It decides loans, jobs, marriages and how dangerous a staircase is for you today.
3. Luck acts through numbers.	Luck resolves events by the digits they produce. A dropped coin, a dice roll, a door code, a clock time: each is a little lottery the world runs. Higher Omens tilt them.	Numbers are everywhere because numbers are where luck happens.
4. Resonance.	At the Naming Rite (age seven) each soul states a lucky digit. That digit resonates: luck flows more easily through it.	People wear their digit, choose house numbers, wedding dates and jobs by it.
5. Stopping.	Auditors can summon a Fate Wheel (a visible strip of the digits an event could produce) and stop it, choosing which digit the event takes. Skill and resonance decide how well.	This is the only "magic" in the world, and it's licensed (§3).
6. Settlement.	At Omen 00 a soul is Settled: misfortune finds them within days and their remaining luck flows back to the pool.	Debt collectors drain Omens; a 01 is a death sentence with a short delay.
7. The Rounding.	Every Dawn Tally rounds each share down to a whole number. The fractions vanish… into NIL.	Nobody noticed for three centuries.
8. Noise.	Where the books don't balance, luck stops being dealt and starts boiling: Noise storms scramble numbers and spawn Noiselings.	The Deficit is growing; storms are more frequent every year.

HOW A FATE WHEEL WORKS

The in-world physics behind the one verb: stop the number.

1

An Audit begins when two Omens contest the same outcome (a fight, a deal, a debt).

2

Each Auditor's will draws a wheel of digits from the event. Faces are the possible outcomes; a face's width is its odds, shaped by the Auditor's Omen, resonance and tools (charms, enhanced faces).

3

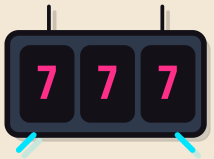

The tens of every strike are fixed by training and gear (tens are safe); the ones are fate and must be stopped (ones are fate).

4

Three stopped digits fall into the reel, the shared ledger of the moment. When the digits form a pattern, the world itself pays out: a Pair is a coincidence, a Jackpot a miracle, a Zero-Sum a perfectly balanced book that cancels the other side's next move.

5

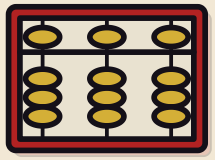

The loser's staked luck (Balance) drains toward the winner's side. Nobody dies in an Audit; they are rounded down, and may Settle later.

THE SIX SCHOOLS OF POWER

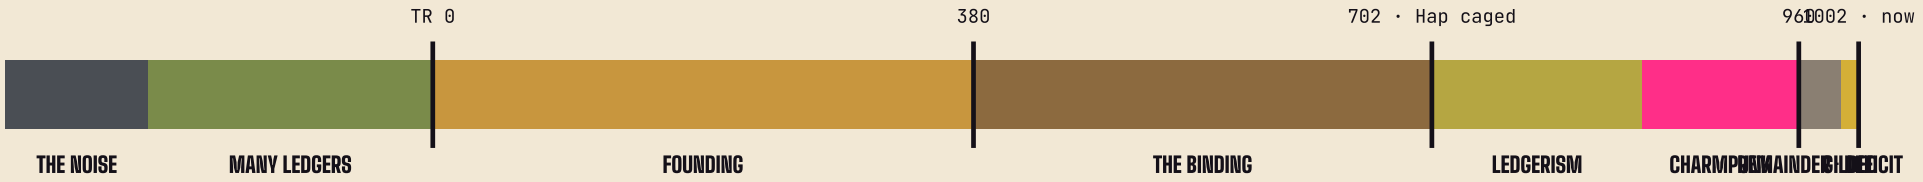

SCHOOL	LAND	SOURCE OF POWER	HOW IT LOOKS	SIGNATURE TECHNIQUES	PRACTITIONERS
Ledger Auditing (licensed)	Meridian	Brass wrist-wheels that tap the Basilica's count	Steel numerals, Nixie amber light, ledger lines	Debt Jar (steal a reel digit), Seizure (freeze a face), Interest	Basilica Auditors, Collectors, Varro, Thale
Shrine Binding	Hyakki	Belief: charms, shrines and old objects with souls	Paper talismans, foxfire, ukiyo-e waves	Omamori wards, illusion faces (foxfire), tsukumogami awakening	Shrine keepers, yokai, Hina, Tamamo
Brush Writing	River Empire	The written word in the Book of Life and Death	Ink strokes, gold leaf, red seals	Ink (rewrite a digit), Interest (compounding), Oracle sticks	Judge Cui's clerks, Exchange brokers, Jinling, Bai Si
Karma Weaving	Śūnyapura	Deeds recorded and returned; zero as the place that holds everything	Geometric light, rangoli patterns, brass instruments	Karma (bank and spend), Place Value, eclipses	Observatory astronomers, Shunya, Rahu & Ketu
Sieve Geometry	Kroton Nova	Number properties: primes, ratios, the thread's measure	Marble, mosaic glyphs, white light through holes	Prime pierce, Sieve (strike out faces), Factor	Synod knights, Prima, Archon Seventeen
Dealing	Crossroads	Contracts: luck bought, borrowed and owed	Cards, neon, dust, the black book	Deals, Wagers, Loops	The Stranger, croupiers, Fibi, the House
The Remainder (unique)	—	The god's lost change	NaN glitches, orange digits that refuse to round	Splice, Carry, Divide by Zero	NIL only

Licensing: since TR 760 only Ledger Auditing is licensed. Every other school is folk practice: tolerated at home, illegal in Meridian unless registered.

HOW PEOPLE USE POWER

USE	WHO	HOW
Protection	Everyone	Charms widen good faces a little for everyday lotteries (slips, accidents, exams). Weak everywhere, strongest in their home land.
Lending luck	Luck banks, the Exchange	Lend Omen points at interest; repayments are drained at dawn by licensed Auditors.
Insurance	Insurers (Meridian)	Pool many small Omens to cover one big misfortune; premiums are paid in luck-ins.
Law	Courts	Disputes between Omens are settled by Audit under a magistrate (a formal, non-lethal duel).
Medicine	Clinics	Doctors can't create luck, but Omen clinics move luck from donors to the critically ill ("luck transfusion"), for a price.
Work	Trades	Builders, pilots and miners need high Omens for safety; low Omens are pushed into dangerous jobs, which is how the Remainder Wards grew.
Games	Casinos, festivals	Legal small Audits for show; big Audits for money are illegal in Meridian, legal in Lucky Strike.
Faith	Temples, shrines, the outlawed Open Hand	Offerings ask for a land's way of luck; the Open Hand leaves a die in an open palm for Hap.

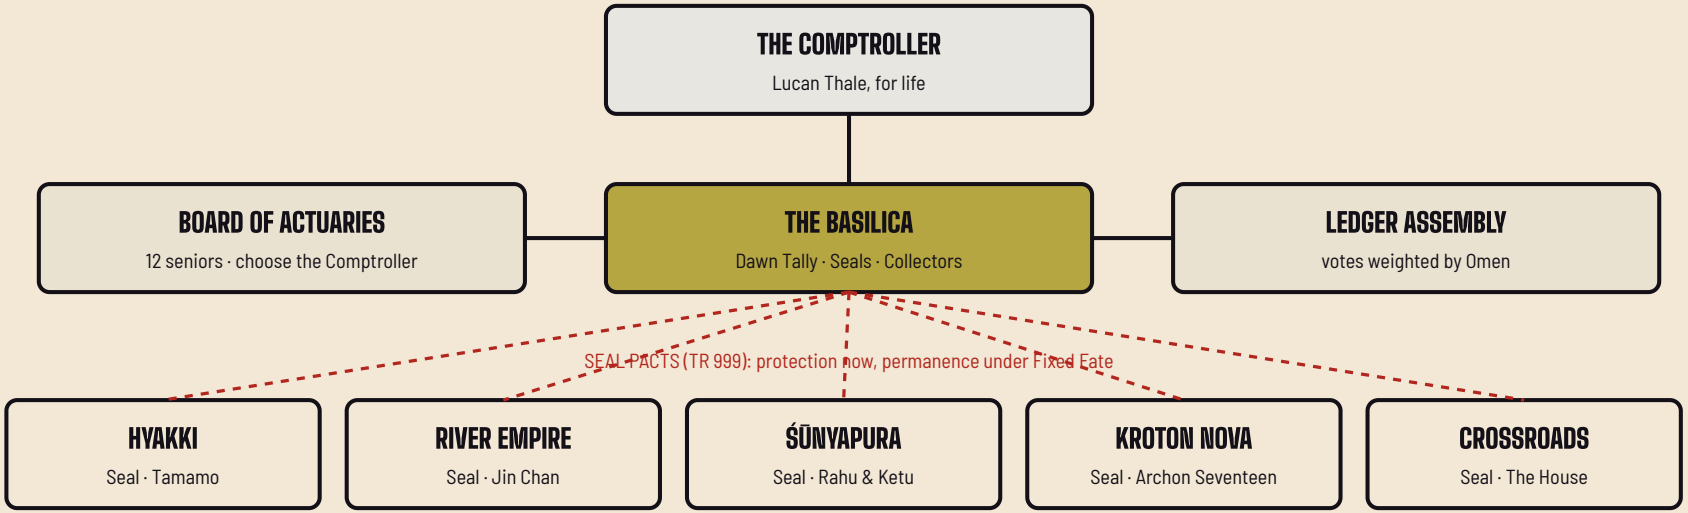

HISTORY AND TIMELINE

WHEN	ERA	EVENT
Before reckoning	The Noise	Hap deals freely; nobody keeps accounts. Fortune moves like weather.
Ancient	The Many Ledgers	Each people learns to talk to Hap: the Moirai's thread (Kroton Nova), Chitragupta's records (Śūnyapura), the Book of Life and Death (River Empire), Enma's ledger (Hyakki), the black book (Crossroads).
~1,000 years before TR		Zero formalised in Śūnyapura; place value travels the trade roads.
TR 0	Founding	Meridian founded as a trading town at the crossroads of the Tally.
TR 120		The first Charm Bazaar: every caravan's charms on one street.
TR 380–690	The Binding	Meridian's actuaries copy, buy or seize each land's ledger.
TR 512		Kroton Nova's thread is "borrowed" for a century; the Synod hardens.
TR 640		The Exchange opens in Bāfā Harbor under Meridian charter.
TR 702	The Basilica	The engine completed; the Final Binding cages Hap; the first Dawn Tally; the Rounding begins. Worship of Hap outlawed in Meridian.
TR 760 →	Ledgerism	Brass-and-steel style; Auditing licensed; the Collectors founded.

WHEN	ERA	EVENT
TR 850 →	Charmpunk	Immigrant quarters fill Meridian; every culture's charms on one door.
TR 911		The Lucky Strike casino opens on Basilica money; the House's first deal.
TR 960 →	Remainder	A storm destroys Lucan Thale's street (he is 12); the Undercity fills with low Omens.
TR 962	The Deficit	Śūnyapura's observatory first measures the leak. Noise storms begin.
TR 985		Thale becomes Comptroller.
TR 990 →	Gilded Fortune	The 99s flaunt gold leaf, jade and gardens.
TR 999		Thale proves the Rounding, finds Hap in the engine, drafts the Final Audit, signs the Seal pacts.
TR 1001		Varro Kade becomes a Collector. The Ghost Train's loop count reaches 1,596.
TR 1002	Now	NIL wakes in Rain Alley 9. REMAINDER DETECTED. The game begins.
TR 1002 (finale)	The Open Hand	Depends on the ending: Balance, Overflow, Positive-Sum or Divide by Zero.

POLITICS AND POWER

LAND	WHO RULES	THE BASILICA'S GRIP	WHAT THE PACT PROMISED
Meridian	The Comptroller; the Board; the Assembly	Total	Order
Hyakki	The Yokai Courts with human village councils	Toll gates on shrine roads; Collectors in harbours	Yokai never fade (Tamamo)
River Empire	The Chancellor of the Exchange (de facto); the Ten Courts below	The Exchange is half a Basilica office	Jin Chan's bank holds the frozen luck
Śūnyapura	City council of scholars and guilds; the Observatory	Surveyors rewriting measurements	Rahu & Ketu made whole
Kroton Nova	The Pythagorean Synod (the Archon)	The Sieve "accelerated"	Purity
Crossroads	The House (by money), the sheriff (by law)	Basilica finance	The night never ends

Luck is wealth, health and safety at once, so whoever controls the count controls everything. The game's politics is unmasking that.

HOW THINGS OPERATE

Money

Two currencies: fen (small coins of brass, everyday trade across the Tally) and luck itself (Omen points, traded at the Exchange and lent by banks). Prices are posted in fen; luck is for big things (loans, licences, medicine).

Law

Disputes go to an Audit court: a magistrate oversees a formal Audit between the parties' Auditors (or themselves). Crimes are punished in luck (Omen fines) or time. The death penalty doesn't exist; Settlement does the work, which is worse.

Transport

Meridian: cliff lifts and stairs between the Undercity and the plateau (lift fares are by Omen: the lower your number, the higher the fare, "for safety"). Between lands: ferries (Hyakki), river junks (River Empire), rail (Crossroads), the monsoon road (Śūnyapura), the Aegean packet boats (Kroton Nova).

Education

Children learn their digit's meaning before the Naming Rite at seven; the Basilica's schools teach arithmetic as morality.

The day

The Dawn Tally at sunrise recomputes every Omen (a beam sweeps each city; clocks strike 0). Debts are drained in the hour after. Markets open at the second bell.

Health

Omen clinics transfuse luck; doctors still heal bodies. The poor sell luck-ins to pay for medicine and then need more medicine.

Media

Omen boards in squares; the Daily Tally broadsheet (every Omen change of note); radio plays in the Crossroads; street criers in Bāfā.

Architecture rule

Floors 4, 9 and 13 are skipped in lifts; buildings face east for the Dawn Tally; the Basilica's eye is visible from every street in Meridian (a planning law).

STYLES

THE FOUR ERAS OF LUCK

Meridian's styles come from its history: the binding of the ledgers, the Rounding, the Deficit. Every street mixes them; every outfit tells you which side of the Zero-Sum Law its owner lives on.

TR 702
Basilica completed

TR 760→

TR 850→

TR 960→

TR 990→

TR 1002
Today

CHARMPUNK

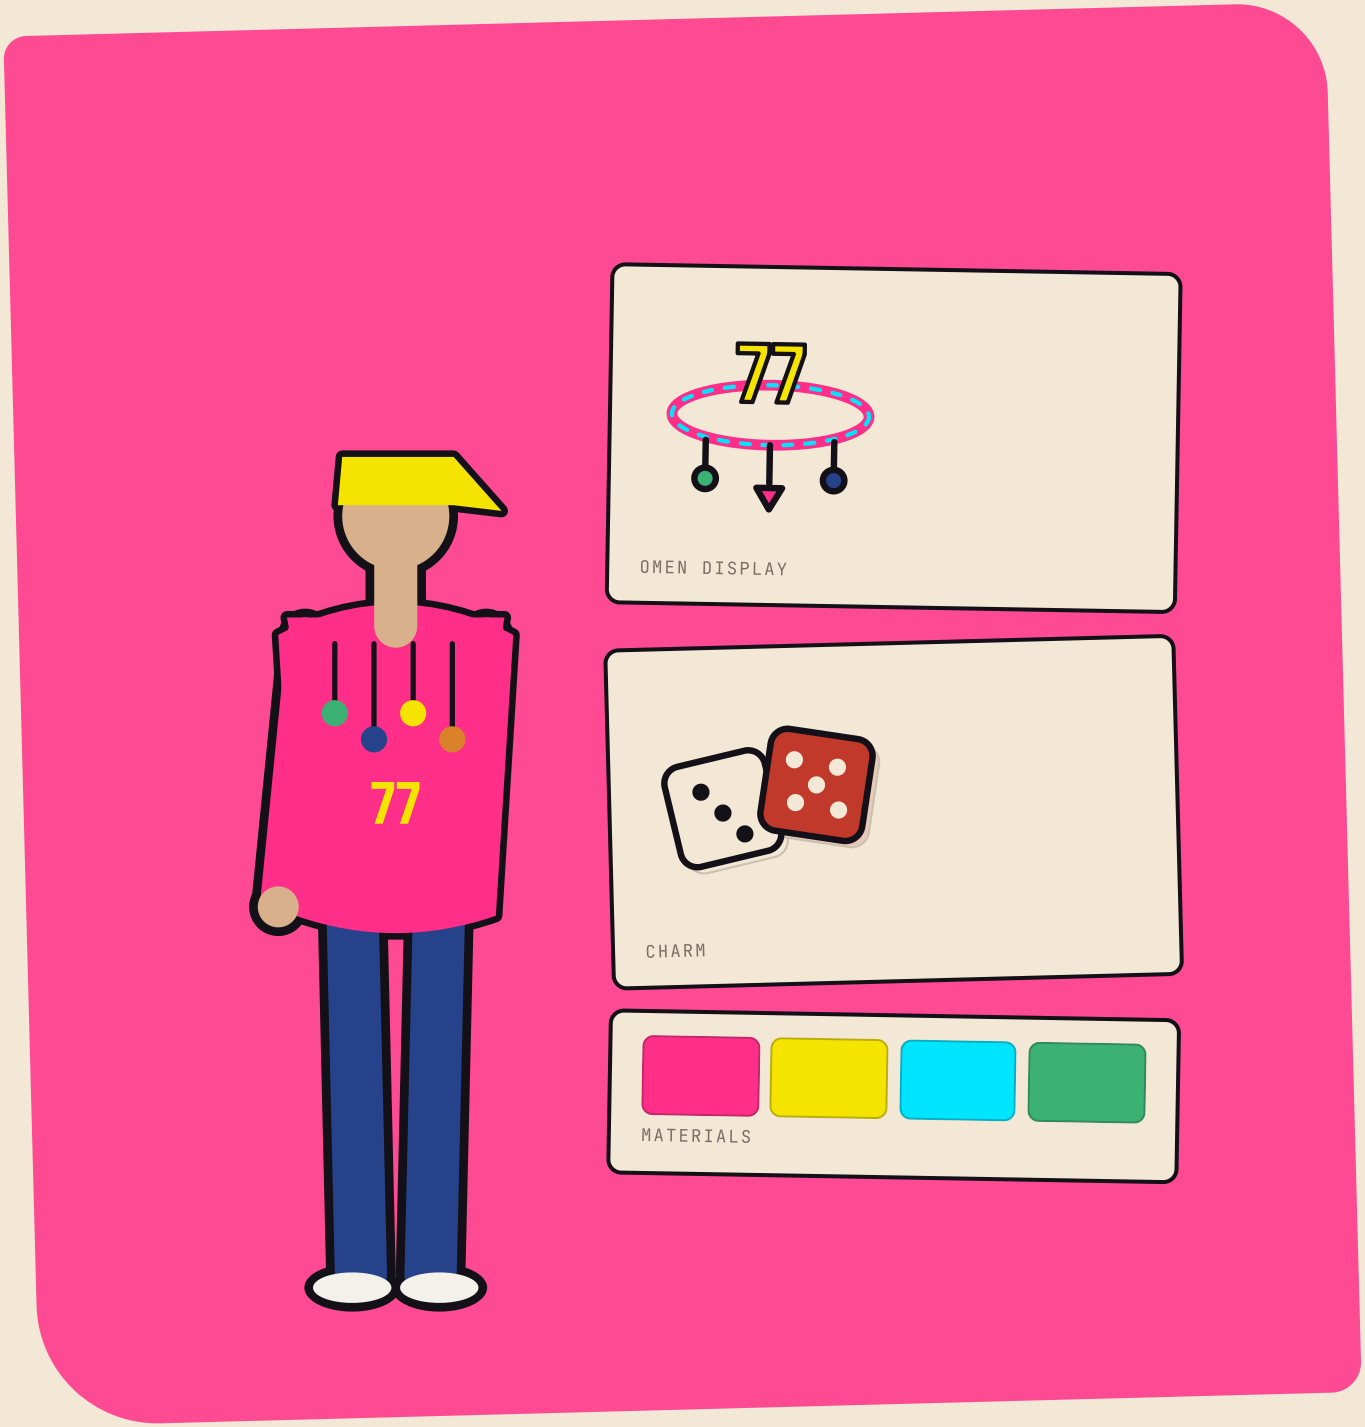

→ LUCK OVER SENSE ←

TR 850→

The street's lingua franca. Every culture's charms worn at once, hand-painted lucky numbers, plastic gold and neon. Charmpunk is loud because luck is a performance: if you can't raise your Omen, you can at least look like you're winning.

ART NEEDED · CHARMPUNK keyframe

- Line-up of 6 Bazaar locals in Charmpunk
- Keyframe: the Charm Bazaar at night, every stall a different culture
- Omen display: gaudy holo-halos, fake Omen projectors

REMAINDER

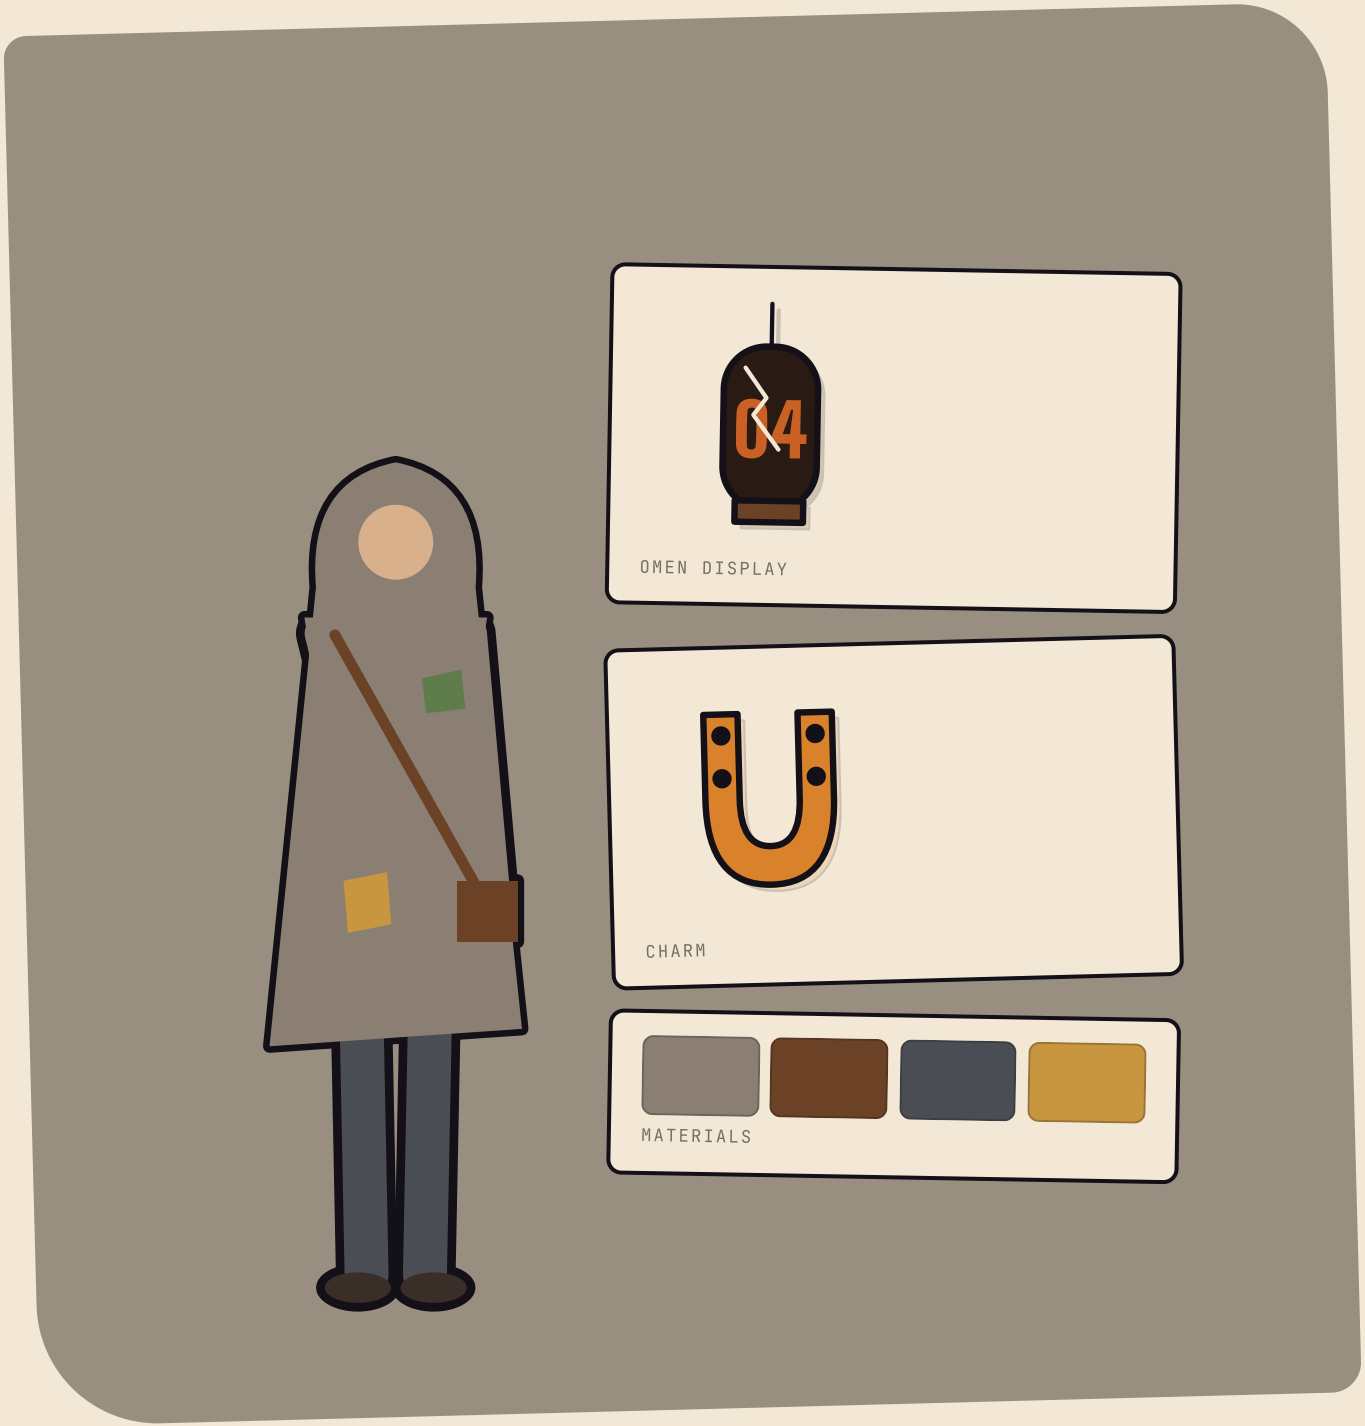

→ SURVIVAL OVER LUCK ←

TR 960→

The style of the Undercity, where Omens run low. Scrap brass from old Basilica parts, patched cloth, salvaged Nixie tubes and rope. Durable, ugly, honest. People hide their numbers here out of shame.

ART NEEDED · REMAINDER keyframe

- Line-up: Remainder Wards residents (mechanic, cook, debt-ridden mother, kids)
- Environment: Rain Alley 9 at dawn
- Omen display: a cracked tube on a cord

LEDGERISM

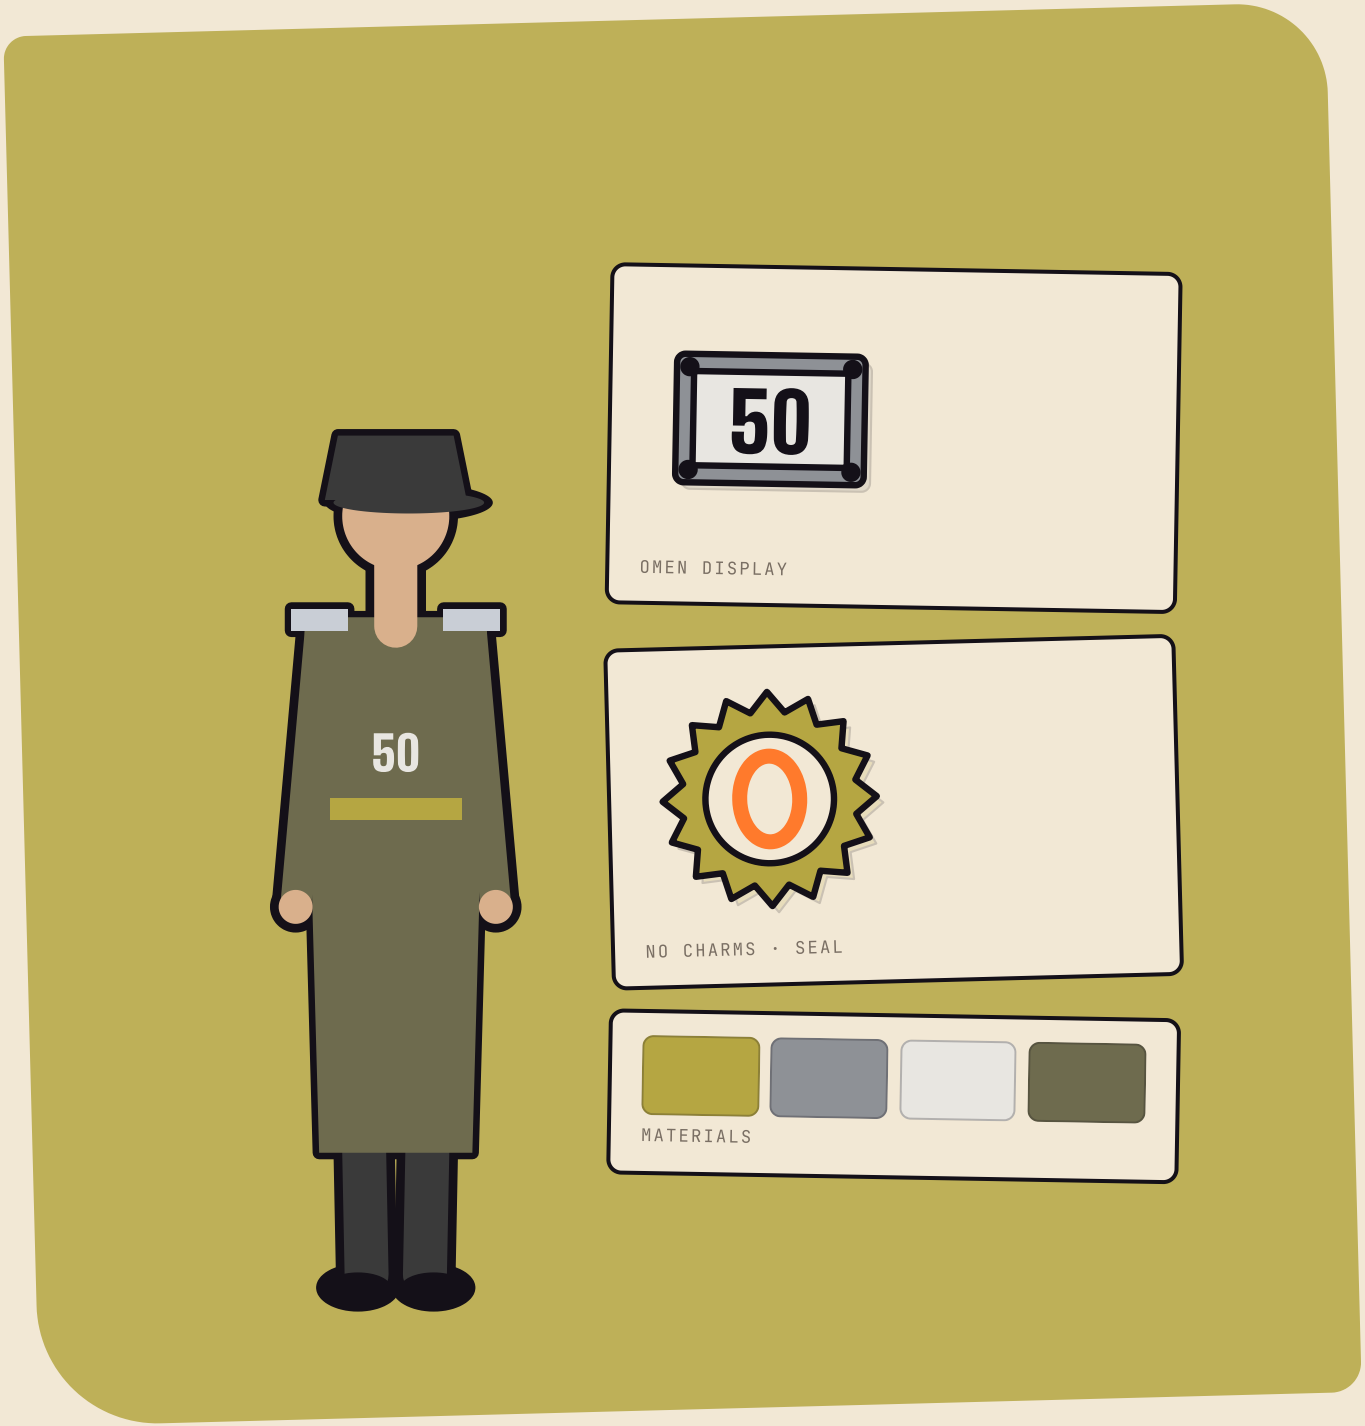

→ ORDER OVER CHANCE ←

TR 760→

The style of the Basilica and its servants. Brass, steel and white enamel; cathedral arches; clockwork; uniforms with stamped seals. Cold, formal and threatening, it says that chance has been abolished and you are being counted.

ART NEEDED · LEDGERISM keyframe

- Line-up: Collectors, Ledger-priests, Basilica clerks, Auditors
- Environment: the Basilica Ring checkpoint
- Omen display: steel numerals, never glowing

GILDED FORTUNE

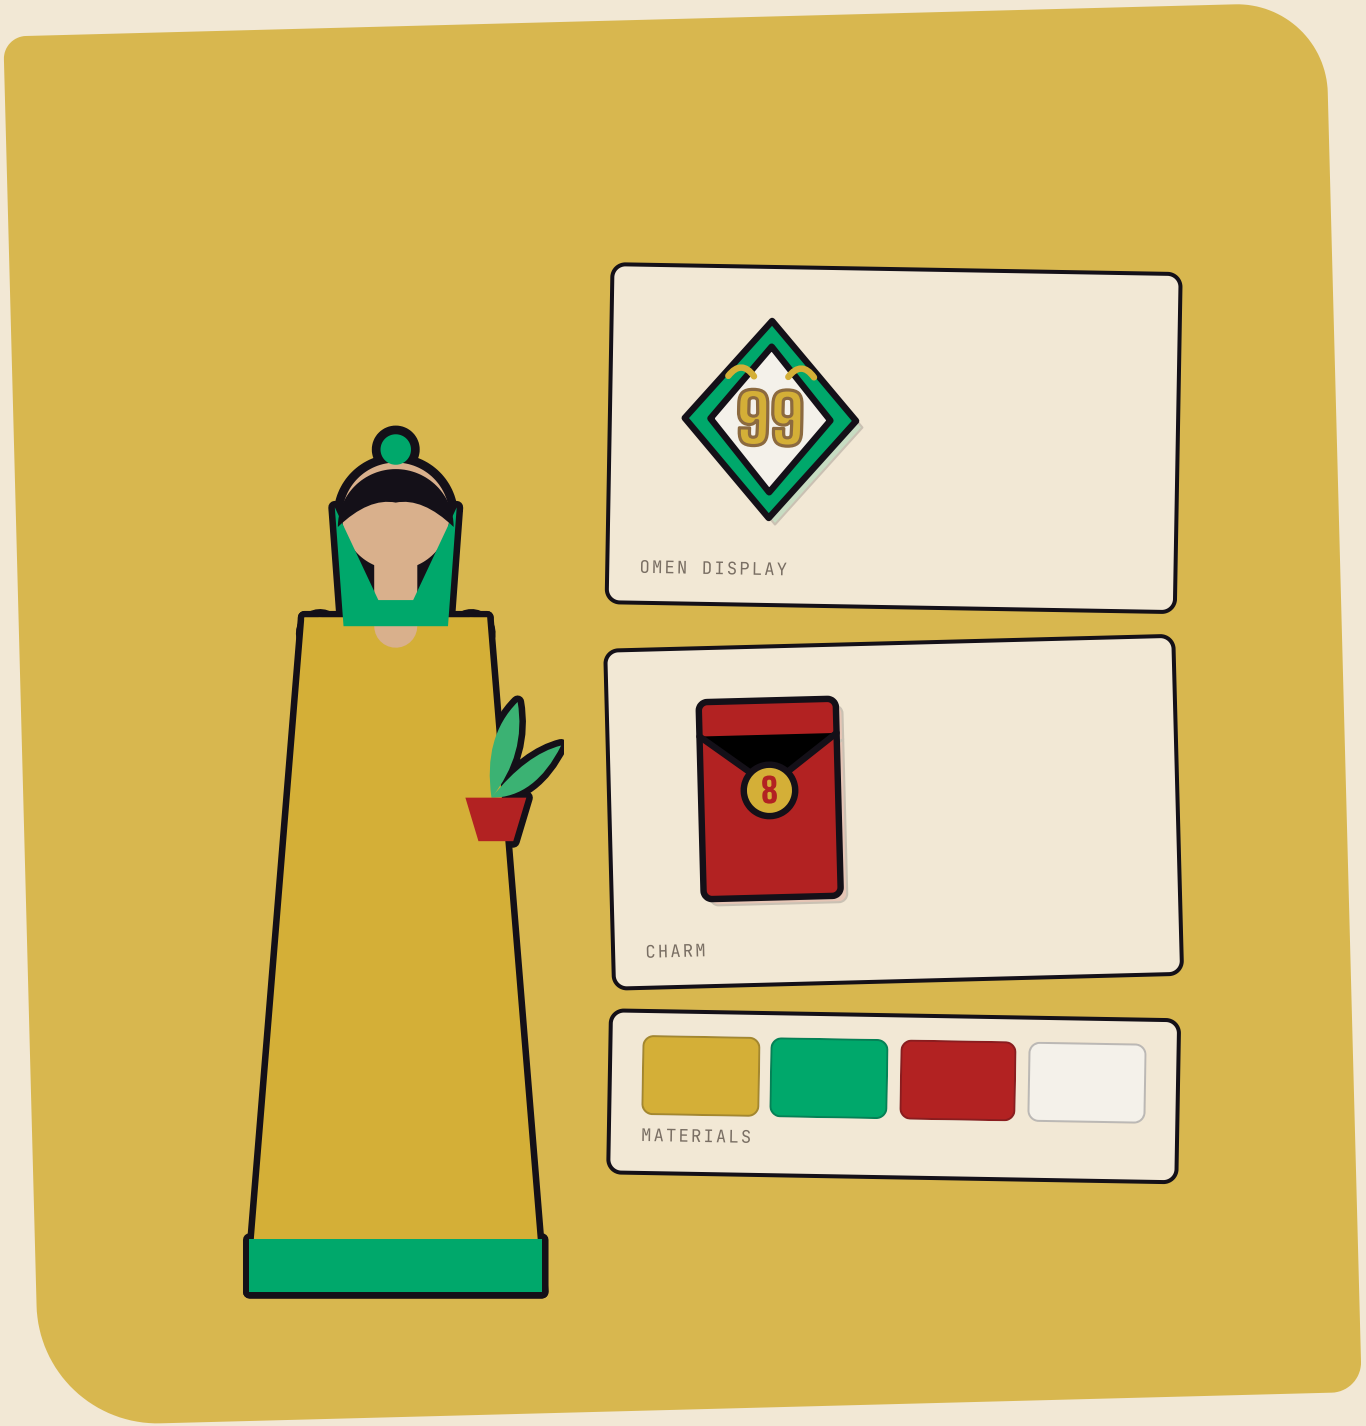

→ FORTUNE AND ORDER ←

TR 990→

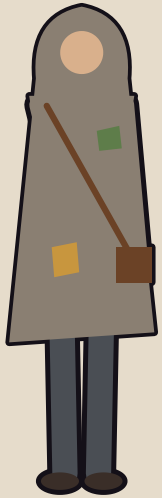

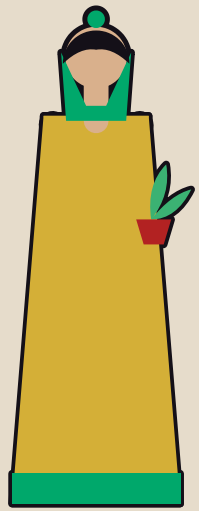

The style of the 99s: old money and Exchange magnates. Real gold leaf, jade, silk and living plants. In Meridian a garden is luck you can see; a bonsai on a balcony is a fortune worn in public.

ART NEEDED · GILDED FORTUNE keyframe

- Line-up: Exchange magnates, heirs, their guards
- Environment: the Exchange Terraces garden-villas
- Omen display: embroidered or gold-leaf numerals

COMPARISON

CHARMPUNK	REMAINDER	LEDGERISM	GILDED FORTUNE

Charm 	Charm 	Charm 	Charm
Omen display 	Omen display 	Omen display 	Omen display
LUCK OVER SENSE	SURVIVAL OVER LUCK	ORDER OVER CHANCE	FORTUNE AND ORDER

The same three slots per era (a person, a charm, an Omen display), side by side so the eras read as one system. Design figures stand in until the painted comparison sheet (Art Book Production Guide §7, image 3).

THE TALLY

A ring of lands around Meridian's plateau. The upper city is sealed, so to go up you must go around. Each land kept its own ledger of fate before the Basilica bound them all.

Red dotted line: the party's road, from Meridian's Undercity through five lands and back. The Upper Gate needs seven Seal Digits: 1 (Varro), 9, 8, 0, 2, 7, and the seventh is the player's own lucky number.

SEALED

PART III

THE LANDS

Seven places, seven palettes. Every land: its colour-script opener, then its 3D blockout from above, in 2.5D and from the battle camera.

1. Meridian Undercity
2. Hyakki
3. The River Empire
4. Śūnyapura
5. Kroton Nova
6. The Crossroads Territory
7. The Basilica

STAGE 1 · 3D BLOCKOUT

MERIDIAN · REMAINDER WARDS

Stacked in the drains and cliffs beneath the plateau. The Wards began as workers' housing for the Basilica's builders and became the place where low Omens end up. Remainder scrap meets Charmpunk colour: every door wears a different culture's charm.

What happened here: the Rounding. Every fraction of luck dropped since TR 702 flowed downhill, and so did everyone who lost theirs.

KEY · REMAINDER WARDS

Colour key over the 3D base: overcast dawn after rain. Slate, ochre and moss walls, warm windows, every culture's laundry, the brass Basilica at the end of the canyon. Nixie orange, magenta and cyan live only on the signs.

Pipeline stage 1b · colour key. Perspective, scale and light are solved in 3D first (see the pipeline page). Stage 2 paints over this; stage 3 is the artist's overpaint.

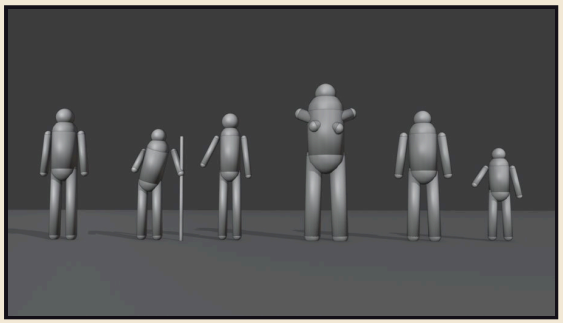

LINE-UP · REMAINDER WARDS

Six locals, shoulder to shoulder, slightly low camera, over the district painting. Ages, builds and origins vary; every outfit is evidence of the Wards' economy.

ART NEEDED · Remainder Wards line-up

- Brass-scrap mechanic (Remainder)
- Grandmother with jade and evil-eye charms (Charmpunk)
- Teen dice-gambler (Charmpunk)
- Collector in rust armour (Ledgerism)
- Noodle cook with a lemon-and-chilli charm
- Kid with a cracked Nixie-tube necklace (Remainder)

HYAKKI · MOON PIER

Volcanic islands where humans and yokai share festivals. The pier is where the party lands: lanterns, fireflies, and the Night Parade crossing the far ridge. Its deck is the Act I battle floor; the torii's three lanterns are the reel.

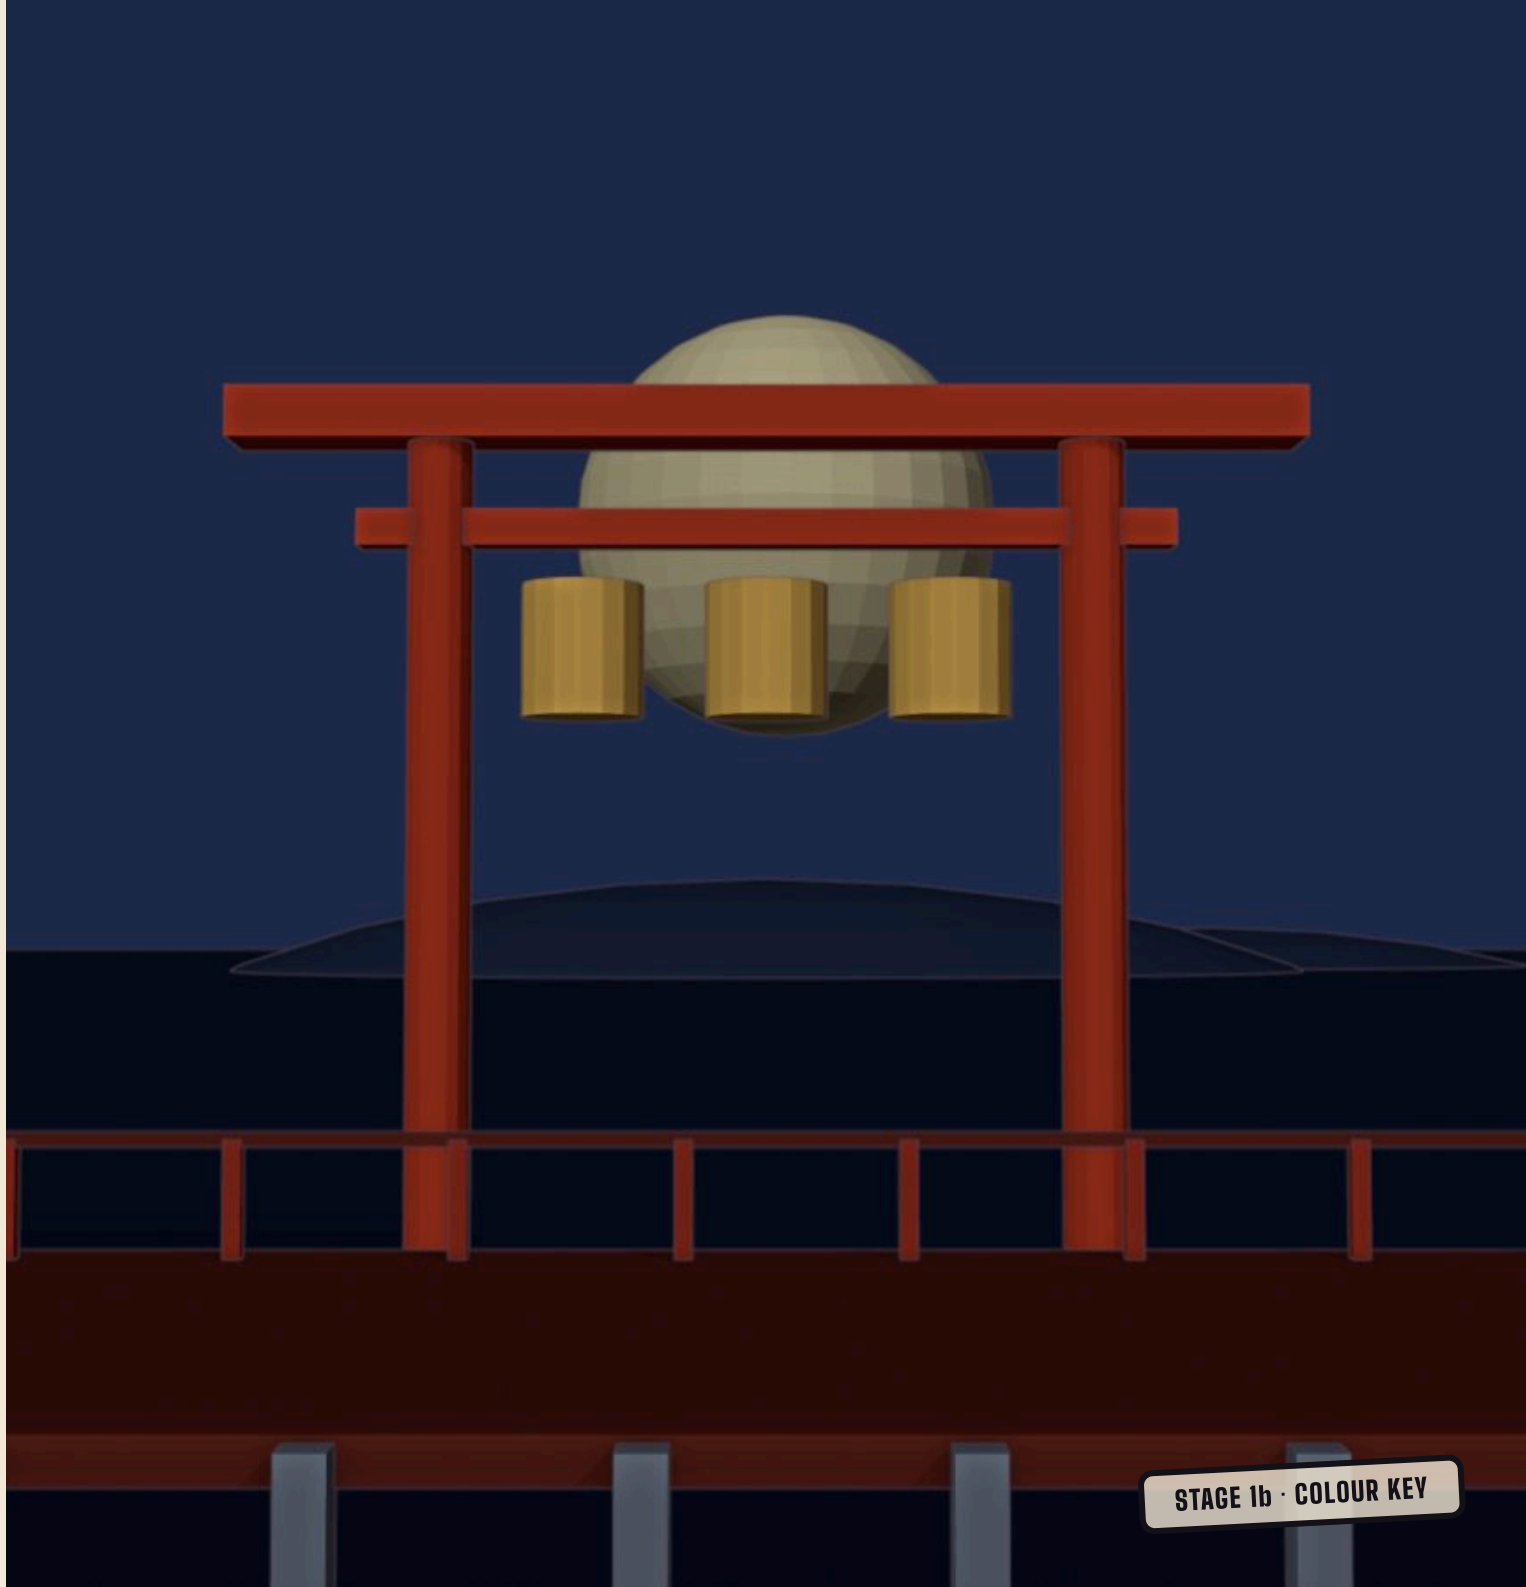

Meridian intrusion: a Ledgerist toll gate on the shrine road.

KEY · MOON PIER

Colour key: indigo night, vermilion torii, lantern gold, moon cream. The paint pass adds mist, fireflies, sea glints and the Night Parade on the ridge, and keeps the deck clear for the fight.

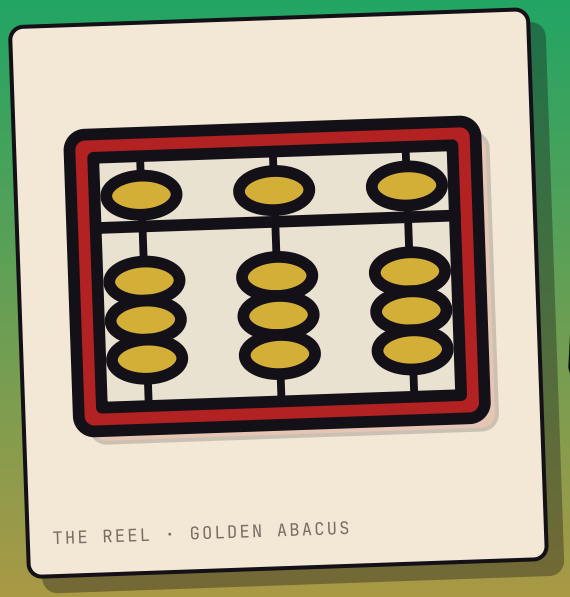

Pipeline stage 1b · colour key over the 3D base on the pipeline page.
